sisters, cousins, & friends

Our eyes land on the same bloom, notice the same colors, and our mouths smile at similar stories.

We love art, artfulness, home, and hominess. We like to make our nest the very best- full of song, art, and beauty.

We circle the word joy and let the day fill us up. We love life and all of its confounding, mysterious beauty. We see that beauty in the common place, common action, common grace.

We honor and understand thoughtful daily actions and we also appreciate what leaves us silent and in awe. We believe in the long term, not just the ephemeral, and that we are shepherds of the present and nurturers of the future. We know we make a difference. We know we are beautiful. We feel good together. We share the same laughter and cry the same tears.

Honey, we are kindred spirits.

All the best each and every day and thank you for sharing your time with us.

—April xx
